Hopeless No Longer
What Actual Guests Say About Central Union Mission

Mareo Jeffreys

“Before I came to Central Union Mission, I was a big time alcoholic. I kept getting DUIs. Once I finally found a job I thought all my problems would be solved, but they weren’t. So that really let me know that the problem was inside of me. That’s when my grandmother told me about Central Union Mission. It’s been such a life changer for me because I met so many men here who were not only about changing lives but also the way you see the world as well. It’s not only ‘what can you do to get yourself together?’ but also ‘what can you do to help others around you?’ That’s what I intend on doing. That’s why I really want to pursue a PhD in chemistry.”

Demetris Sims

“My life was totally broken. I came here and feel a lot of hope now. It’s a blessing because I’ve got a warm bed to sleep in, clothes, food—everything I need. I highly recommend this place to people who are broken and want to get their life back together.”

Without this Mission I would be lost, hopeless, helpless. This place has given me shelter, three meals a day, I can take a shower! Where and how I was living before, a shower wasn’t part of my life. This place has done more for me than I can ever imagine doing for myself. I can smile. I love me! I never loved me before. I love me because I’m a better person today. I had a drug addiction—no longer. I had a woman addiction—no longer. I had a sleeping-on-the-corner addiction—no longer. The person you see sitting in front of you now is not the person who walked through these doors—I can guarantee. Thank you, Lord. Thank you, Central Union Mission.”

WE JUST LOVE CHRISTMAS here at Central Union Mission! In addition to honoring God’s gift of His Son, Jesus, we get to celebrate the gift of renovated lives for our Overnight Guests. For many, this Christmas will be the first in a long time—or ever—to understand God’s love. They’ll discover how their devotion to Him and hard work in the Mission’s job and education programs can bring them a fulfilled future.

That bright promise is more important than any Christmas present they could receive, and it can only come from you. We rely on our faithful donors because the Mission is privately funded; we don’t receive any contributions from city or federal government.

We’re also excited about moving our Food PLUS Center full of groceries, clothes, housewares and furniture into a larger building up the road. We’ll soon be able to accept even more donated goods and furniture; we’ll keep you posted!

As the year-end approaches, please continue to bless our Mission guests with your financial support as they strive to return to productive society. We are so grateful for you!

Blessings,

David Treadwell
executive director

Researchers at Texas A&M University recently found that adults who want their children to eat more greens should remove any other delicious “competition” from their child’s plate. By serving a veggie first and alone, when children are at their hungriest, they’re more likely to eat the healthy option put before them. Good parents and grandparents want what’s best for the children they love—from the inside out. This includes physical and emotional health, as well as providing a generational legacy of faith.

Another way you can give your best is by creating an Estate Plan that will bless your loved ones and ministries you care about like Central Union Mission. It can also help to:

- Mitigate unnecessary taxation. Certain assets carry higher tax implications than others. Consider leaving lesser taxed items like life insurance for your heirs and retirement assets to a non-profit organization.
- Eliminate potential stress and create peace. An up-to-date Will allows you to put your financial house in order. This can help your loved ones avoid unnecessary emotional or relationship strain.

Eat Your Greens!
HEART & SOLE was an evening to remember. On October 27, 2016, Dock5 at Union Market was at capacity with Mission supporters enjoying gourmet tastings, signature cocktails and satisfying sweets prepared by “Hell’s Kitchen” winner celebrity Chef Rock Harper and thirty of his creative chef friends. Guests cheered on the “Chopped”-style cooking competition with celebrity sous chefs and the Extreme Sweets Showcase by young Food Network chefs moderated by SugaChef Padua Player.

We also heard the talented band Buzzard Point Caucus and bid on unique auction gifts and experiences. Some guests mingled in the VIP Lounge; others took silly photos at the Mad Props photo booth. We watched delightedly as fine artists created artworks right before our eyes. Check out heartandsole.today for event photos; maybe you’ll see one of yourself!

But more important than the amazing fun, HeArt & Sole participants helped provide one million meals and care for hungry, hurting and homeless neighbors in need. Central Union Mission is grateful to our host committee, honorary host committee, board of directors and volunteers who gave up their time and effort to make HeArt & Sole the best—and most compassionate—party of the year!

They Need More Than Good Cheer

For some homeless people in Washington, DC, Christmas is nothing more than another short, cold day in their struggle to survive on the streets. Because of your support, our needy neighbors can enjoy not only a festive meal but also the hope that comes from loving God and the future that the Mission’s employment programs provide.

Your gift to Central Union Mission makes new lives possible for hungry and desperate souls. Please send your donation today.
